*Dear Friends
in Christ,*

The Letter of St. James (Jas 2:14-18) says. "What good is it, my brothers, if someone says he has faith but does not have works? Can that faith save him? If a brother or sister has nothing to wear and has no food for the day, and one of you says to them, 'Go in peace, keep warm, and eat well,' but you do not give them the necessities of the body, what good is it? So also faith of itself, if it does not have works, is dead."

Thus, to be true Christians, we must put our faith into practice in our actions and in the way we treat other people. During the past Christmas season, we once again celebrated the birth of Our Savior, who brought his love and mercy to all of God's children and we are reminded to carry out the commandment that Jesus gave us to love one another.

It is through Catholic Charities that the Church profoundly demonstrates its commitment to this commandment and her option for the poor. In the U.S. alone, Catholic Charities annually serves over 10 million people of all faiths, races and backgrounds addressing a myriad of emergency and long term needs of children and families in desperate situations. They are scared, they are hungry, they are hurting and they need to be shown the mercy and love of Jesus.

In our Springfield Diocese, Catholic Charities, through its many programs, serves thousands of people every year across our 28 counties. The impact of Catholic Charities is real and significant and it extends into dozens of rural communities where relief services are practically non-existent. Many of you exercise your commitment to doing good works through your support of the Mission of Catholic Charities. That mission is a never ending quest to seek out those who remain hidden in the shadows of society, cloaked in poverty.

As you review this Annual Report, I hope that you can take pride in the efforts of the Church to demonstrate our faith does have works, and is very much alive and well, serving all of God's children in the name of Jesus Christ. I invite you to please join Catholic Charities in whatever capacity you can – staff member, board member, volunteer or donor – and you will witness the power of God's love and our faith in action.

Sincerely yours in Christ,

† Thomas John Paprocki

Most Reverend Thomas J. Paprocki
Bishop of Springfield in Illinois

Dear Friends of Catholic Charities:

It is once again my pleasure to present to you the Annual Report for Catholic Charities in the Diocese of Springfield in Illinois. We continue to be blessed with a dedicated, talented staff and so many wonderful volunteers, board members and donors. The Mission of Catholic Charities is truly our "faith in action" as each year our programs and services seek to bring the healing and empowering presence of Jesus to thousands of men, women and children in crisis and distress. We do this as an expression of our Catholic identity and as a dutiful "real time" response to the command of our Savior to love one another. We are joined on this sacred journey by people of many faith backgrounds who share our desire to bring love and mercy to those who are suffering. We define "our neighbor" as anyone needing our help.

Unfortunately, 2021 did not bring an end to COVID-19 as we had all hoped. The long-term effects of the pandemic will be felt and studied for many years to come. However, we know right now that the impact has been very real, and in many situations devastating to so many families. We know there are many people experiencing suffocating mental distress and they have limited resources available to them. We know that in 2022, many families will face eviction and homelessness as moratoriums expire and federal COVID funding is eliminated. We know that studies have shown the pandemic has had a disproportionate negative impact on the economic, physical and mental wellbeing of people living in rural areas. We visit and serve this hidden world of rural poverty on a regular basis through our outreach services.

We also know that regardless of economic or public health conditions, food insecurity remains a stubborn, permanent reality in our society. The demand for our hunger relief programs remains high. In 2021 the St. John's Breadline fought hard to remain open for our patrons in need serving 148,805 meals. Our Meals on Wheels program in Decatur facilitated over 130,000 home delivered meals. Additionally, our six traditional food pantries and seven Mobile Food Pantries served thousands of our brothers and sisters in urban and rural communities across our 28 county diocese.

It is too difficult to predict the future and how the pandemic will end. Catholic Charities must continue to focus on the here and now. We are grateful for your support of our daily efforts to serve the poor and suffering in our midst. We will work hard to earn your trust and benevolence and we welcome all who wish to join us in this holy endeavor.

Sincerely,

Steven E. Roach

The Impact of Catholic Charities

in Our Communities: Gary Leggions

Gary Leggions was referred to Health Connect, a health advocacy program offered by Catholic Charities in Decatur, by case management at St. Mary's Hospital in Decatur in 2019. He had been frequenting the emergency room due to several different medical conditions and lack of access to his primary care physician. He was having knee pain, heart issues, and foot pain. The only transportation Leggions had was his bicycle. Due to the lack of transportation, he was unable to get to appointments.

Upon enrollment in the program, Catholic Charities in Decatur was able to address his lack of access to his primary care physician and other medical conditions. Leggions' first problem was his pain level. In order to get his pain level under control, Catholic Charities was able to get him into an orthopedic surgeon office for a steroid shot. That was able to get the pain under control. Then, Catholic Charities took him monthly to see his primary care physician so he could get his medication regulated and keep his blood pressure under control. His foot pain then got better after Leggions went to a foot and ankle center.

For the past year and a half, Leggions lived in a two-bedroom apartment where the rent was $700 a month. The apartment was filled with mold and the landlord did not do any up-keep on the apartment. There were kids in the neighborhood that had broken two of the windows and the landlord just put-up plywood instead of replacing the windows. Leggions is on Social Security and receives a small amount each month.

Again, Catholic Charities in Decatur helped Leggions, this time applying for public housing, for which he was approved. When trying to turn the power on, it was discovered that Leggions had an outstanding power bill, which Catholic Charities helped with by connecting Leggions with local resources.

On December 28, Leggions signed the lease on his new apartment. With no furniture or household items, it was Catholic Charities who collected donations so his apartment could be furnished. Then, with the help of several children, his apartment was all set-up so he did not have to do anything to move.

Because of the intervention of Catholic Charities in Decatur and the countless people who helped along the way, Leggions has been able to get access to his primary care physician, get his medical conditions under control, and find suitable, affordable housing. Leggions is just one example of the powerful impact Catholic Charities is having across our diocese.

“Times have changed greatly, and Catholic Charities has always been there to answer the call for help from the children of God who need it most. We have always been there because of our faith. But most of all, Catholic Charities has always been there because of people like you joining us in our never ending quest to show the world the mercy and love of our Savior, Jesus Christ.”

- Steven E. Roach M.S.
Executive Director of Catholic Charities,
